

Veterans' Advisor Gives Interviews

The Department of Veterans Affairs announces that a representative of the Division of Educational Assistance will be in the Long Beach office of the Department of Veterans Affairs, 202 Heartwell building, 19 Pine ave., Saturday Nov. 8 from 8:30 a.m. until noon for the purpose of interviewing veterans and veterans' opportunities offered by the State of California.

ALWAYS GIVE SIGNAL

Don't forget that rear view mirrors have not eliminated the need for giving signals. Many a motorist does forget it. He looks in his mirror and sees nothing immediately behind him and assumes that any maneuver may be made safely. The point overlooked in such a case is that the mirror does not show what is off to the immediate right or left at the rear of one's car.

PLAN LUNCHEONS

Methodist Circle No. 2 will meet for dessert luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. F. Wehrli, 2355 Maricopa blvd., today at 1:30. Mrs. M. L. Robb will be co-hostess, and Mrs. Margaret Ritchie will review "The Fine Art of Using". Circle No. 1 has postponed its meeting to Friday, Nov. 14, when Mrs. Arthur Box, 2355 Torrance blvd., will be hostess for a 12:30 luncheon. Mrs. Harold Hutchison will be in charge of devotions.

WEEK-END VISITORS AT LUKES' HOME

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Riley and their son Dale of Pt. Hueneme were week-end visitors at the home of Mrs. Riley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lukes of 1015 Portola ave. Other guests at the Lukes' home Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Tillman and daughter Barbara, and Mr. and Mrs. William Wood of Long Beach.

HOMECOMING DAY FOR OCCIDENTAL ALUMS

Torrance alumni have been invited to attend Homecoming festivities at Occidental College in Los Angeles Saturday. The list includes: Mmes. Frank Bentwood, George Border, Robert Willard Dawson, R. J. Houdashelt, and Carl Lane, and Dr. William M. Johnson, Noel A. Brown, Jr., and Robert E. Newman.

OPENS TOMORROW... Mullin's Service, Oldsmobile dealers, will hold a formal opening of their new show room and garage at 1885-1887 Torrance Blvd. tomorrow and Saturday. The public is invited to visit the building and inspect several new Oldsmobile models and the modern "back shop" designed for repair and maintenance. Mullin's has served Torrance for 22 years.

NEW SUPERIOR COURT BRANCH OPENS NOV. 17

The new branch of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County in Inglewood, providing more convenience in securing judicial service in Torrance, Lomita, and the South Bay area, will be opened on Nov. 17 in the County Health Center building at 101 S. Grevillea st., Inglewood, according to Supervisor R. V. Darby. Opening at the same time will be a branch of the County Clerk's office. It will be located across the street from the court in a library building which is being remodeled to accommodate the unit. The Clerk's office will receive suit filings and also issue marriage licenses, Darby said. The office will be open daily. Deputy County Clerk Helen Whitted will be in charge. The Supervisor called on Chambers of Commerce and merchants in each city to be served to provide some award to the first couple from each community obtaining a marriage license from the branch office of the County Clerk. Assignment of a Judge to the court is to be decided in the next day or two by the presiding Judge. Superior Judge Philip H. Richards is expected to be named to the new post. Court sessions at the present time are planned for only one day per week. "I believe there are many suits on file here in Los Angeles from the district to be served by the new court which should be transferred there as a convenience to litigants and attorneys," Darby observed. He added that he hopes the day is not too far off when the branch court will have sufficient judicial business to warrant its full-time operation.

$1,327 Paid To Airport Head In Two Months

port as a profit-making project for the City of Torrance, were seen last week in the report of the Long Beach Municipal airport where revenue reached $110,415.28 last year. Landing fees amounted to $19,067.40; storage, $11,880.27; gasoline and oil sales commissions, $21,967.52. The Federal government pays the City of Long Beach $35,000 a year for use of the airport, which also is open to private and commercial traffic. The City of Torrance recently defeated Superior court efforts of a Lomita group to prevent Torrance from acquiring the airport.

The City exercised its priority rights to the field after the Army put the airport on the surplus list and succeeding agencies surrendered their rights to the City of Torrance. The first was the Ben Weston estate, which sold the 428-acre site to the Federal government for airport purposes, and others following included Federal agencies, the State of California and the County of Los Angeles. An Airport Planning Commission now is considering plans for development of the field.

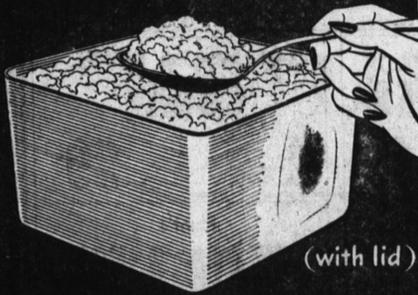

G. M. Jain Ends Service Here For New Job

I regret breaking away from my friendships here. "I feel that my experience here will be of great value to me in my new work, and hope that the Council will continue to extend every cooperation to the new City Engineer." Jain has been a target of builders, subdividers, and civic leaders for years for his insistence that "the letter" of the law be upheld. And every time he has been put to test, he has proved that he was right. Local leaders, seeking to promote more rapid residential expansion, have sought a more liberal interpretation of the Building Code to facilitate construction. He came to Torrance from the City of San Diego City Engineer's office, having spent five years previous to his San Diego position as an engineer and cost accountant for the State Division of Highways in San Diego and Fresno. His Torrance appointment dates from May 15, 1938. A native of Idaho, he attended San Diego State College and University of California, where he got his degrees, and became a registered engineer in 1940. The family home here has been put up for sale, and Jain, with his wife and two children, will move to Redwood City as soon as a place there is found.
